A Gift is Given...for the Good of All!

Divine Mother channeled through Sol'Ara An

Dear Divine Mother, now that we are in the year 2008, do you have any information on how the Earth is doing with the increase in ascension energy or how humanity might do more to allow the ascension? Is there a message you would like to bring through me now?

Good evening dear ones! We are grateful to once again to be here with you. I see many concerns from the ethers rising up to our "ears" as it were. We are not concerned for the welfare of our children of Earth, as we know you are taken care of. I know that the process that seems to be happening based on others predictions, and the predictions of the ancient writings weighs heavily upon the hearts of many. We see the cycle turning and the higher vibration of thought is what raises all possibilities to occur. We are here now to prepare you for the coming times. Being prepared is not a bad idea, for any eventuality could occur depending on the consensus of the entire human race. And it is not known at this time which way you will truly decide to go as a whole. But, in this case of a time of transition, as many call it, we bring the opportunity for individuals to decide the direction they will go. And so truly there is no fear. And if you are of conscious awareness and making choice there will not be a surprise either. Fear only comes for those who choose to keep their heads in the sand and pretend nothing is changing. You must observe that many things are changing at this time. It is not so much that man has created chaos from its misuse of the Earth resources, it is deeper than this, it is at the very core of Mother Earth's center that comes the changing weather patterns. It is the evolvement of her body that causes all of the elements to work together to bring harmony to an imbalanced world.

Many times when nature takes a turn, humanity does not understand, it creates fear and many worry that lives will be lost. It is not in the nature of Spirit on Earth or in Heaven to create scenarios to take life away. This is a mistake in consciousness that is pervasive in your world. Until man decides to see the truth of his creation, it shall still leave open the opportunity for chaos and destruction. But would it not be wise to lay down the guns and the weapons of mass destruction that come from the minds of those in separation and mistaken consciousness regarding Gods Divine Will? Gods Divine Will is spoken much in your world, and yet many still cannot hear our early morning "hello"...yet they believe in harming another out of mistaken ideas and beliefs in their religious writings. Nature always strives to find balance. And we say that when man is ready to take responsibility for his creations, he may have a clearer mind to change the direction he walks. When one walks in peace with Mother Earth and all of nature, the Earth does everything she can to accommodate your safety and your warmth.

The time has come to go within to the very core of your hearts and forgive yourselves of all of the mistaken ideas you have ever had. To forgive yourselves of the past lessons that you have carried heavily upon your hearts, so much so that you cannot find love ...is the way to love.

Love, beloved children, is first found within your very own heart and then as it grows and is nurtured and expanded, and then...and only then, shall you feel the love you search for. Did you know that many cannot feel love to such a degree that the only thing they feel is darkness, because they cannot forgive themselves their past misdeeds, not even for a moment. And if in one moment they were to release their egos and accept their own forgiveness, we would come into their hearts and raise them up in that holy moment. Then they would know joy beyond anything they have ever known. That, dear ones, is why forgiveness is so important. We cannot usurp your will when you choose not to forgive yourselves and decide in your judgment that you are not worthy of our love.

If you would all realize that when we speak of love, we do not speak of the small love that you think of as your "special" relationships. We speak of the kind of love that cannot truly be defined by your languages. We speak beyond the spheres of creation and thought and beyond the awakened ones who bring you this bridge to what is Love, true Divine Love. This Divine Love is the creator of all things! It is our Love, who we are, that has created mankind and all things! And because we, your Creator, were willing to forgive ourselves in every moment where we may have not created exactly what was thought to be created...we had opened the door for your birthing to this Earth to play the game of illusion. All for the growth of the wholeness we are!

It is unique in the hearts of mankind to suffer so for lack of love. No other being has been so courageous as to allow itself to forget itself and the love that is always within. You see, this gift of the universal love and the gift of Earth experience is only given to humans, and it is your choice that you took up this game. We offered the opportunity to allow you to play it out to its fullest that you would truly learn as much as you could in all of your human aspects. And this included the times you chose to walk as the "dark light". Yes, it is true that Light is in everything, and to live a life in darkness is to truly be in the quintessence of the game of illusion. And it is such, so that the ones who choose to see the highest light of wisdom and love and compassion can have this gift. For in duality there must be both extremes.

Now, however, the game is changing. We are raising the game to a higher level. And all of you have been preparing for this change for all of your existences on this plane. And so in truth, this is no surprise to your Soul's, as they are your guides. You chose the "contract" if you will, to be in the experiences that would bring the highest growth, and you were so happy to be given the opportunity.

And now, you have come to the place in the game that say's stop... look up...and step up a few more steps before crossing the bridge to the new and more loving level of life consciousness. To be lifted up by your Soul's is a blessing for all of mankind. They only await your willingness to allow this lifting!

Here is a time that brings great sorrow to some, grieving over the loss of loved ones for the many relationships that are ending, but please hear this dear ones, there is great purpose to these endings and new beginnings. And if you would look more truthfully into your hearts and listen to the truth of what you know to be your highest growth, you would see this as a plan you helped create for the good of all. For you see dear ones, this entire plan, the changes and transitions of the many lives upon the Earth was taken into consideration by all at the time of the great planning. Yes, indeed all of you were there. This was not decided by a few Souls, this was decided by All Souls who participated or were going to participate in this great Earth life experience.

What now can you do? When we offer this information, we know there will be some who resist this offering for their egos would surely not want them to take responsibility for such change. And yet, we say it is truth. With the given energies that have lifted the veils higher, released the blocks that made it difficult to reach higher unless many years of meditation and spiritual training were in place; these are no longer needed. Indeed, it is the time of true light upon the Earth. And a time we have given a gift of grace to all life upon dear Mother Earth. A great time indeed! A time of great opportunity to lift up the consciousness through even one simple prayer, and the willingness to forgive ones self. We have offered this grace as part of the great plan for the Ascension of the Earth and humanity. And so my dear ones, what choices will you make?

If you choose to see the possibility of our grace as your salvation, your path will become much easier indeed. If you choose to see this as just another prediction that fails, asking "how could this be true?", then dear ones, you will get the great opportunity to live your own truth. This comes not from any kind of punishment, this comes from great love. The kind of unconditional love that allows our beloved children of Earth to make their own choices, and to live by them for the highest learning experiences, what better gift could we give than the gift of allowing this all to play out as you requested. To be given the honor to make your own choices, and to learn by those choices. And this, dear ones, we have done. For we honor all of you greatly!

Many times we have given clues to the simplicity of having a joyous life. And yet many would rather walk the road of pain... or illusion and separation. And yet we still offer the simple life of joy! When you rise in the morning and take your first breath of morning air, what does your mind present to you? Perhaps keeping in mind true gratefulness that you are taking that breath as the early morning Sun of the new day arises, is the key to a happy day. We believe this is a very simple but effective way to view your day. For how can we give you what you don't want? And so we honor your decisions, but also we advise that we offer a day of joy, a day of love, and a day of great learning to those who can see the truth of the grace life provides.

When you find yourself in a place of fear, and feel alone, we understand that this is the pervasive thought, and yet if you could open your mind to just one thought - that you could use our help, our love...we have so much to give you and will do our utmost to send you the assistance you need. All we have needed is your permission.

Can you truly know the truth of another's Soul journey? Can you truly judge someone else when you have not read from the book of their Soul contract? And so, long ago, we offered the words of wisdom to honor your brothers and sisters and love them as yourselves, to stop judgment, to be of service to others, and to honor your hearts guidance. In many ways, in many languages, in symbols, in many songs, and plays, and books we have given this guidance. Will you now hear us?

Along the timeline you are on comes a time of decision as to how you will move your consciousness as a whole into the peace many want. You look to your politicians and governments and you find them wanting...for they do not know the path of peace you seek. It has been a struggle for mankind to recognize that when you forget even one of your brothers or sisters in human form when considering your needs, all are connected, and all pay the price of that decision. Today, we tell you that it has changed. No longer is it necessary to feel the weight of the decisions of the few who chose the chaos and the illusion of separation.

We honor those who have spoken up and prayed and asked from the core of their very Souls for our intervention, our divine will. Divine Will is filling every being upon the Earth with the knowing of the joy that all is well, and the transition is taking place as planned. You can feel the joy within when once you accept the truth that nothing is as it was...and the illusion has been taken to a higher game plan...so much so that now the game is - non-duality, non-separation, and a full life experience of total love and wholeness and community. Peace is prevalent within the hearts of mankind, and thus this is the energy with which you shall proceed and succeed. Know this! Feel this in your hearts dear ones! We come to tell you, "you have succeeded!" You have created the Peace you have prayed and cried for! The key, however, is to live this PEACE now! To be the PEACE now, and to walk in the PEACE now, and to own this truth in your hearts and Souls!

A small child comes to the Earth and finds the love she needs, and knows all is well. This child is one of light, and one who carries the Christ consciousness into the very heart of the Earth Mother and all inhabiting her. This one small child smiled upon the Earth, and said "it is good!" and she is called Divine Peace! Her birth is mankind's salvation in this time of your 2008. She is not alone, and many now are coming, or have been here growing and waiting for the day they will lead mankind into total harmony and paradise upon the Earth. We send you this gift. We ask that you honor this gift, for these children are the daughters and sons of all of mankind! Peace is birthed, and all is well!

Our love is with you dear ones, always and forever we remain with you! I am Divine Mother, the Feminine Face of God. Anon, Anon, Anon
