Compassion Releases the Illusion of Separation

Divine Mother channeled through Sol' Ara An

It is a day of good tidings my beloved children! I am happy to once again greet you within the oneness of your true beingness! We are one and all within your knowing is truly you, participating in life experience. This is a given at this time as you believe it to be, and yet many, my beloved light workers do not yet understand this simple concept. It is a time when there seems to be so much information and so much awakening to spirit, and yet do not forget those who have yet to feel their inner spirit move within them. For it is also a time of great compassion that calls forth to our children of awakened light.

In this time of transition the holiest of the holy grail of information has come through to many in the writings and channelings of our great messengers. We bring these messages in through a variety of our aspects for purpose beloved ones. That purpose is obvious to us, but perhaps we need speak of this purpose once again. In your Earth there are many, many cultures, many and various ways of religious and spiritual belief, and all are in the consciousness of Oneness. Yet humanity has chosen to choose sides. And that day, my dear ones, is come to an end. Yet you will still hold onto the illusion for some time yet.

There is no "one truth" from our side of vision. There is experience, there is opportunity for learning, and there is the ultimate truth, if there is one truth... "You are Us!" And in that you are "Us" we are You, and we know we are not separate. And so today, beloved one's of our being, we ask you to contemplate and bring into your hearts this possibility... perhaps your belief in separation has caused the pain and the war's in your world, but know too, you have the power to change this.

We bring you this day the opportunity to know that when you realize the power that is contained within you, you will see our concept as real. For when you, within your own belief system, believe that you are separate, and the violence and abuses around you are coming from "out there", you are simply believing in illusion dear ones. The one that withholds love, withholds forgiveness for any part of themselves has created the opportunity for that "un-forgiveness" to play out in their world. What you are seeing in your world at this time is just that; your unwillingness to forgive yourself and to love yourself. And as you continue to see yourself separate from all of those beloveds around you, you perpetuate this pain over and over again.

A hard lump to swallow, we understand, and it is our compassion that compels us to bring this message of our truth to you this day. For when you do understand that "You" are the true creator of your world, perhaps, our beloved creator would choose differently.

There is great knowing within the body of Oneness that our beloved aspects of our being will awaken to the knowing within their own hearts of this One that they are, with all that is. When this occurs within the mind and heart of humanity, it too will clear the energetic misperceptions that have been held within the body of mankind. And in our compassion, we as your creators from this side of the veil can then bring our healing grace within the minds and bodies of all of our human aspects. Our Divine Love has been sent through many of our light workers and the work continues to be... to allow the opportunity to be seen within their actions. If any part of oneself is thrown out, separated from self, and unloved that part would maintain the consciousness within humanity of separation and pain. For not one, not one can be lost! And that has always been our true message!

How then can we make the decisions needed to change the world around us? You may ask. Change the environment within your own hearts, minds, and bodies! For in truth, there is no other place these changes can be made. We send our Divine Love and our Divine Compassion energies through you more each day. This is the energy you are receiving today from the highest levels of our beings. This energy is so pure, so effervescent with the light, sounds, colors, and vibrational frequencies of our hearts here at "home", this is your call home beloved children!

Our hearts have longed to bring the message of Divine Love into your hearts for many, many eons of time. We knew this day would come when enough of our children's hearts were open to hear our message of love, and bring them back into their true homes of honored respect, and honored peace within the heart of our One collective consciousness of wholeness. It comes as the precipice of time, when all is coming to an end that was, and now the beginning of what shall be...has begun! Yet many will still walk the halls of their illusions. We do know and expect this. We say to all of you who know within the very core of your beings, the wisdom of your heart, the true road to your inner connection with your home and we trust your knowing will offer the energy needed through the consciousness of humanity, to awaken the rest of Us!

Within the energy of Compassion lies Divine Love at its center. We have spoken of the "Code of Compassion" before, and now we offer the opportunity to understand a deeper meaning to the need of the activation of this "Code of Compassion" within humanity. It is the true "body essence" of our truth. Divine Love is the creator of all that is. It is the very "Body" of your Creator. And so, when one activates the "Code of Compassion" within their own being, one has offered themselves and their Soul to the awakening of the Creator within them. As each one activates this "Code of Compassion" within, more and more of you upon this beautiful Mother Earth will awaken the truth of your very source life-force, and within that life-force "You", this is where you find your Peace...that which you long for.

I am sure that many have already heard the call within echoed through the Halls of Amenti, within the divine portals of light. We call you to the light cities within and offer the healing of the spheres of light regeneration. We offer the highest unity to those who choose love, who choose to be, once more, the true creators we know you are. Our game of separation is at end dear ones, will you not come home!

Our doors remain open; our hearts are with you always, as we are never any farther than your next breath. Do not remain too long beloved children for the party for your arrival has begun, the song's are being sung of your sweet success! All is prepared!

Holy, Holy, Holy is the true face of our being...“You” our beloved Children of Light!

Anon, Anon, Anon...our love and compassion surround and fill you. I am Divine Mother, the Feminine Face of God.
