

NEWSLETTER FOR DIVINE MOTHER

November 2007 Newsletter

November 11, 2007

Dear Divine Mother, I have just listened to a teleconference regarding the numerologists view on the new Age of Aquarius that is predicted by many to begin on January 1, 2008. In numerology it is believed to represent the Feminine energies through the power of communication being more prevalent upon the Earth. I would like to know what message you may bring to this that I have listened to today. What would you have to bring to others on this 11:11 day... a day of new beginnings?

11:11 The New Day and the Marriage of Divinity

It is a good day my beloved ones of light! A day, yes, of beginnings...a new age predominate upon the horizon of your time. We offer our joy and our giving of the grace of communication even now as we come through this channel of light. It is inherent within each human to allow the Holy Spirit to reside within the heart of the seat of the soul area of the heart chakra, or the high heart chakra as some would call it. It is this place within the crystalline temple that may be found the records of time, the records of the "Destiny of the Spear", as spoken in the telecommunication you speak of. For each thing that is named by humans becomes representation of the time it was named. Yet in some cases, as the case of the "Destiny of the Spear", we must state that it was before its time...and now resides with the coming of the tides of humanities newest age.

It is common at this time for many to speculate on the heroics of energy that resides within the male mind, to push forward and control, but it no longer has steam. And wearily our male energies find they are without support, and this only references what we have been saying: they must come back into union with their Divine Feminine counterpart. It is the way of peace that we speak of, yes, but also the way of the Divine Light of God's holy love that brings this energetic meaning to all of humanity. Relax within the truth of your own inner knowing and heart and see the truth of this our divine masculine counterparts.

It is the time of change indeed, many cry over the loss of life in the fields of war. It is a time of the end of this type of male force, and in the year to come you shall see the changes as the Divine Feminine will come into her power, and into the environments of politics, religion, and spiritual centers of the world. We will stand yet in the offering of our services of love and compassion as our children choose the direction of the world they live in. It is your choice, yet would you truly understand that you are making the choice, even in your complacency? And therefore we must suggest that perhaps our beloved children of light, world servers of the Earth would once again pick up their swords of light, which are only used to magnify the divine love and energetic opening of the portal of heaven's door. For violence and fear and the dark aspects of your beings are now being cleared and reorganized into another place within your God's realms of life. It is a time of unity, love, and the global consciousness that will prove this out yet!

I come forth this day as a voice within the realms of God, to speak as the Divine Feminine energies of creation that was birthed by my thought and my heart aligned to the Source of truth in the realms of the most high. It comes directly to me and through me this day the support of my Divine Masculine to align my children to this truth of Divine Union! We, as the Source of all that is, now, in this holy moment speak as One.

Dear ones of our creation, we do beseech you to move your hearts and minds into the center of your divine love. Align to the source of divine love and bring this forth from your hearts. Know too that within you are the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine aspects of your own Soul, waiting to unite. We call this the Marriage of Divinity. It is time, dear ones, to join in harmony not only with others, but the true start is within ones own self. For without this start, the others do not truly receive of your highest love. And so this day we offer this awareness through the beauty of the Soul, and our hearts of divine love and divine compassion, that our children would first look within themselves, and see the honorable light their own hearts contain.

As the One, that we are now, we speak from both the Divine Feminine and the Divine Masculine of our beingness. Having created with the knowing that this is the time of great shift, we offer our assistance to our children of light, our world servers as you would know yourselves. How can we be of service? What can we offer our children in the light of the day? These are our questions to you, for you are the ones who must choose. Remember that even a non-choice is a choice. It is the law. We know of your hearts desires for peace and equality within all people. We hear the cries for the down-trodden, and we understand the pain that seems to continue in some of your cultures for lack of food and medical attention. Yet, we cannot ignore the truth of your Souls experience and choice, and honor this higher knowing, this truth. You are the creator's of this world you live in. You chose the experiences so that you could fully understand what the meaning of our commandments of love are. We focus now upon this truth, your free will, and our love for you through it all.

Choosing your path of peace, of the end of your wars means choosing the end of the wars you hold against your self and your neighbors. You must Forgive! You must come to the clear understanding that forgiveness is the only way to the heart of your inner knowing, to the path of your road home, to your Creator! We stand with you, no matter who you are or what choice you have made. We hold hope and true knowing that one day you shall hear our voice within, guiding you to true understanding of the difference you can make. Even one person can make the difference. It is your belief in self that changes everything. Look at your history, how many have made incredible changes in places where it was thought to be impossible... look at your Ghandi, your Mother Theresa, Ammachi, and others who on their own, from within their Souls and hearts knew that they must move forward, they must speak their truths! They too found the beginnings of fear rise within them. The difference is, they did not allow the fear to stop their movement forward. This is the history of your world, those world servers who believed in their own ability to connect with their God and make the difference because they knew it was right! This is the level we speak of now dear children, dear servers of the world - Awake!

Our voices ring through the hearts of our children, and as such many are called to take up their divine path and speak their truth. This is the time you have been waiting for. If you cannot hear this, and you allow the fear to overcome your resolve, know you are not judged. But take heart and hear our guidance now: nothing about fear is true, and you are more powerful than you could ever imagine! Divine Children of our light, do not forget who you are...for we have sparked your memory, and it is your truth. The small light coming from within you, deeply bringing the emotion of peace and then of humble tears of knowing...this is our message to remind you who you are.

Our time upon the Earth has changed dramatically in the last several years, but now in accordance with the stars we must see this change to your new age of Aquarius, with gleeful hearts our blessings are given!

We know the truth of your active lives now upon the Earth represent the change of what could have been. For the choices you have made since the last change in your year of 1999, was indeed a turning point. This may be the energies of the genesis of the new human. It is always your choice, and we have seen the choices made and we are well pleased in our children of light! For your hearts have already changed the direction of this planets shift, and the truth of it is that not only shall you remain to lift your Mother Earth up into her heavenly place within the higher 5th dimension, as you call it, but her lifting will lift also your spirits within human form to the vibration of that light realm. In doing so, it will seem as if a dream! In doing so, all of humanity will know they have come home to peace, to the true heaven on Earth...as your dream made manifest!

And so we, as One, the Divine Feminine and the Divine Masculine, as your Creator, do now leave you with this message of hope and divine love and compassion! Do with it as you will! Drink it in, within your heart, and know true salvation, true atonement...for this is the gift of love we have imbued this message for this day of your 11:11.

It is a new beginning our children of light! Go forth and manifest your highest desires!

“Ask and you shall receive, knock and the door is opened!” The time is now children, Now!!!

With great love and great honor, We are your proud Creator God, Divine Mother and Divine Father! Blessings are abundant!

Anon, Anon, we are One!
