

THE CLOSING OF ONE CIRCLE...WITHIN MANY

Divine Mother through Sol'Ara An

January 25, 2008

Divine Mother, given the events of the last few months, with rising energies and the Earth raising her vibration for the enlightenment of humanity and all life on Earth, would you please tell us what we need to know to work with this new energy in a more gentle and cooperative manner?

Good day dear ones! It is the time of the awakening that has come to Earth, and this day is one of those times where again we rise with the energies of the galactic center, spoken of by your astronomers. I bring great tidings and good news to those who may need divine assurance in a time of great change. Change certainly does bring the uncertainty of the unknown to the human consciousness. It is a time when many have no idea of the importance of this energy, and see it as a means to say that all is lost. However, I assure you, that is not the truth of this time.

It seems that many times the changes occurring within the human consciousness are harsh, but truly the harshness only comes from the resistance to the change. It is inherent within the human to resist anything that is not understood. We would like to assist you in finding peace within, by asking that you surrender to the change with a helpful and cooperative attitude; know that your needs and all of the good that you deserve are simply being prepared for you.

Illusion in this linear world is of great concern to many, as it is a wonder why we say this is a “good” experience, this change you perceive, when indeed so many seem to suffer. Again, we would state that the “suffering” you experience is your resistance to change. It is also your responsibility that this is occurring at this moment, as you set this up long ago for the coming age. It is not truly seen in the way that it was created, and the illusion that this is the time of “redemption” and a time “of the end of the world” is truly just that... illusion! No truth was ever so maligned as to believe that the Earth would be ended in a ball of fire, simply because of “the sins of man”. We did not create this chosen belief, but humans have held to it with all of their might. Our Divine Love and Compassion would speak otherwise.

In creating this world of humanity, we gave great opportunity to allow all to visit the many challenges that occur when there is freedom of choice. In choice, many believe choosing what “looks” good or “feels” good must be the right choice. And humanity has learned over and over that the true choice is Love. Love of self and love of others is the highest choice one can make. And yet, still many choose to see with selfish minds, that which gets them one step closer to their desire, walking over or cheating whomever seems to be in their way. Is this prevalent upon your Earth? Luckily for those that would choose a higher path, it is not. Many have awakened and many more shall do so as we speak. A time of great cleansing is what your books tell you and your clergy preach at you; we say dear children of light, that this cleansing is actually as if a mother took a warm cloth and wiped the dirty face of her child who was just playing in the mud. There is no anger, no judgment, and certainly nothing to be punished for. We would offer solace to those who would have the courage to hear our words and go within to their heart and feel our love.

Our message has always been simple beloved children of light; love one another. This was told so long ago...some have simply taken the message and created their temples around it, and made up rules to keep people in line. But our truth is much simpler. Our only question to you dear ones is: what life do you choose now?

I came once before to speak of love, and simple times were abundant. In the hearts of our children of light we placed our seeds of love and compassion. These seeds blossomed in many, and still others corrupted their meaning. Yet, is not free-will given to experience that which you will? Our gift, to some, has now become known as the gift of “I’ll do anything I want, regardless of your pain!” Free-will was not to be taken lightly dear ones. And with a gift of this nature, great responsibility was taken on by humanity. For when you chose to birth into this Earth, knowing free-will was of your right, you also agreed to use the highest love in all that you chose to do. Did you simply forget? Or was it, as has been told in your history books, a “time of darkness?” The forgetting was in the beginning, when you took your first breath. It is the remembering that you are responsible for. And many clues my dear children were left for you. Many, and now many more come into play. I can see in the hearts of many who will read this and wonder what could she possibly mean? What and how were clues given? Have you ever looked into the eyes of a newborn child? Have you seen the opening of the first flower bud in the spring of your seasons, and felt the birthing of a new life? This, my dear children of light, was a clue.

Did you think we would leave you without a way home? Our love, and our compassion comes even more clearly through the laughter of children...simply playing and enjoying each moment. Who then, my beloved parents are delusional? Perhaps these dear ones, your children are so intent in seeing and playing with, are there for a purpose. Perhaps these guides come to these children to help them to remember...perhaps a clue is given? Indeed!

A light at the end of the tunnel. Isn’t this what you say to those who need hope? We offer you a “Light at the end of the tunnel”, we offer you the knowing that we have not forgotten you. We send you Angels and Guides and members of your soul group to assist you in any moment you will hear them. We ask you through our spiritual channels and intuitive teachers to go within, and ask for our guidance. Many have no time for such things. And yet, when your own inner “dark night of the soul” arrives, you are lost...believing you do not have hope, that you have been rejected by heaven and forgotten by your creator. I assure you, my divine children of my being, your Mother, Father God has not forgotten you. We are you, we are within you, and you are within us!

A time of closing one circle within many, is how we would define your now. We have spiraled through many different kinds of experiences and many different choices of life upon Earth, and now she has come to a time where a great rest is needed. And thus, the feeling of the void. But, in no terms have we closed the doors to this experience and we will not, at this time. And so what is the purpose of this time of great change?

We are asking you to slow down. To take a stroll, and listen to the crickets and the birds singing. To watch a sunset and a sunrise, and see our message written in the sky just for your awakening. Ones who find they are too busy shall find their Souls calling upon them to slow down. When first you birthed into this world you had agreed to follow the terms of your Soul path, and when it is time to look within your bodies most certainly will assist you in the process of this quiet and rest time. We would hope then, with a brighter and more accurate perception, you would see the love in this experience of slowing down. If not, you will receive another chance. Life is everywhere and it shall always be. Therefore, release the guilt and remorse of what has not been done, and come into my temple, your heart, and rest within to hear our new plans of life.

I come to my children of light to bring offerings of love. I offer the inner life of a most peaceful and compassionate knowing. What of this knowing, and what is it that brings peace to human hearts? The assurance that one is in evolution, not in demise? That life continues, and conscious awareness is always present as you are now? Can I assure this? Only as much as you choose to love yourself and follow your Soul guidance. For some choices take a much longer and darker road, but in truth, the roads all lead to home. And peace and love and healing are always there waiting when you choose to follow your heart home.

What of the ones who have left so quickly, after only a short moment upon Earth? What of these little Souls whom have caused great pain in their short lived lives. For love, as seen upon the Earth, in the mind of many Humans means possession. But, perhaps beloved children of light, you might step back into your hearts and see that a high purpose was what brought these small masters of light into the world, allowing divine love within to burst open the hearts of those who would otherwise be closed and void. It is not always as it seems. And our compassion is with those who lose their loved ones, grief is a natural experience of healing. We do not expect less. But that you come to an opening of your heart through this purpose, this gift given, would honor them more. Our Divine Compassion and Divine Love energy fills each of you now. For even in this moment of this creation of writing, we know your hearts sorrow. Blessed are those who have the courage to look deeper, and allow the gift of Divine Love to touch them.

How can we bring this change into it's highest level of experience? How can we assist our children of light, that they may open their eyes, and ears, and hearts and know the truth of their own beingness! Our vision holds the beauty of your success awake within us, and the joy and exhilaration of all those who pass through the doors of the higher dimensions, knowing the Earth has ascended, and they were there to assist her.

Is this a process or is this an event? It has been from the beginning and shall be unto the end! The time is now. The process continues, and all that is needed now dear children of light is: what will you choose? Will you choose the love we offer, or the fear that the minds of man has created. That is your choice. We wait patiently. We hold you in our vision of Divine Love and Divine Compassion that we know you are the brightest and most beautiful lights if our being!

When you are ready, rest within our heart, for in truth you have already come home! For in truth, you have never left!

Our love enfolds you! I am Divine Mother, the Feminine Face of God!
