Quick Facts Update

Here's a quick final run down for 2009:

- Working on creating monthly weekend events at local university during spring semester.
- Bible study will be weekly in 2010, starting with Crazy Love by Frances Chan.
- 2010 monthly volunteer and social events have tentatively been planned.
- OTCM is looking for churches to partner with to better connect the unconnected.
- Working on better communicating vision.
- England for 2011 is still in the works.
- Needing volunteers for different things.
- Website got a new layout.

Now all you super busy people can move on. But feel free to read the rest of the newsletter. You could even print and read it while stuck in traffic. Be sure to check out @offthecoast on Twitter; we promise to use it more.

Plans continue to take shape...

OTCM And England In 2011?

After talking with the missionaries and pastor in Newquay, we are looking into doing an evangelistic conference at Gwennap Pit in 2011 targeting young adults.

Tory and Phil Biesser, once the details are figured out in January, will travel to England to promote the conference among pastors in Cornwall in March. Please continue to pray about this opportunity and how the Lord will use each of us to make an impact for the Kingdom of God.

Want to be a part of the ministry...

Volunteers Needed

Here's a few ways you can be a part of OTC:

- Fundraising Coordinator
- Social/Volunteer Committee Member
- Design/Marketing Team
- Prayer/Support Team

Contact Tory at tory@offthecoast.org or 864.354.4864 for info on how you can be involved.

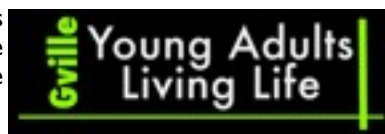

Been a fun and crazy year of learning while growing...

Year In Review While Looking Forward

What a year it has been! Some exciting things have happened. First, we had new people get involved with the ministry and come out to events. Every time new people show up, it's amazing to see how they hear about the group.

Greenville Young Adults Living Life (YALL) also took shape this year. This sub group of Off The Coast focuses on connecting Greenville's single, 18-35 year old, young adults with other young adults, the community, and God. Off The Coast Ministries has now become more of a parent organization that other projects can fall under that are not directed specifically at Greenville's young adults. Examples include campus ministries, mission trips, and global humanitarian projects.

Every experience this past year provided direction for 2010. This upcoming year we will focus specifically on growing awareness of the YALL brand through connections with churches, businesses, and the community. We look forward to seeing what God has planned for 2010!

Ministry works better in groups than alone...

Looking For Partnerships

There are plenty of people in the Upstate that know single young adults, 18 to 35, that are disconnected and trying to connect with at least one of the following: people, community, and God. We need you, your business, your church to help spread the word of OTC and Greenville YALL to these unconnected people. Need more info first? Contact us and we'd love to share a cup of coffee and our vision with you.

Clutter here, clutter there, clutter everywhere...

New Website Design

After a year and a half of cluttering up the website, it was time for spring cleaning! It's still in the works, but the HOME and YALL page have gotten a facelift. The ABOUT US, CONNECT/SERVE, and MEDIA pages are next on the list. Check it out and tell us what you think. A new domain name has also been connected to the Greenville Young Adults Living Life page: www.greenvilleyall.com.

Founders Update: Jeremy has headed back to work at hospital for the time being until sustainable financial support can be raised. Tory completed his first year volunteering with YoungLife and is looking forward to another great year working with the WyldLife group at Christ Church Episcopal School. Both are still single and looking for wives (as well as money), so if you have any suggestions, please send over a quick bio and profile pic to info@offthecoast.org :-)
