

2008 Retail Price List

Our lamb is 100% certified Organic pasture raised lamb. We pay strict attention to even the smallest detail from what they eat, to the humane and low-stress handling they receive, to the way the meat is processed. Organic certification for lamb has seen significant cost increases recently, but we think the health and taste benefits are worth it!

Due to rising costs, other places will advertise as “no growth hormone” or “no antibiotics”. But since we strictly follow 100% of the guidelines and pass certification from the USDA and the Ohio Ecological Food & Farm Association, we’re one of the few farms you can find that can display the USDA certification label as 100% certified organic. And trust us – you can TASTE the difference!
