

Research Shows DHEA is Associated with IMPROVED VASCULAR HEALTH

Youth is associated with high levels of hormones, and in recent decades scientists have begun to understand the powerful benefits of replacing hormones lost to aging. One of these vital hormones is DHEA (dehydroepiandrosterone), the most abundant circulating pro-hormone in the body. DHEA has been studied extensively, and decreased levels of this hormone have been implicated in heart disease, high cholesterol, depression, inflammation, immune disorders, diabetes and osteoporosis.

It is well known that DHEA levels decline after about age 25. By age 35, many people begin to notice they tire more easily, have less energy, less sex drive, less muscle and more fat.

Twist 25 cream was developed by a physician to naturally restore youthful vigor to his patients. This safe and effective cream provides pharmaceutical grade bioidentical DHEA, called prasterone, which is made from wild yam root. It is the highest quality DHEA supplement cream available.

Just a small amount of Twist 25 cream rubbed into the skin each day helps restore declining DHEA levels. Effects from daily use are subtle and become noticeable after three weeks. Each bottle of Twist 25 lasts approximately six weeks.

Twist 25 Cream is made with Omega-3, Omega-6 and Omega-9 oils, plus antioxidants CoQ-10 and vitamin E. It is protected by U.S. patent and trademark, and manufactured in precision engineered compounding machines.

"I started using Twist 25 about 6 weeks ago, and it's having a great effect on me. I started on a new health kick. Seems like I'm making more of life. I feel great...About 3 weeks after I started using Twist 25 I started exercising more and going to the gym like I knew I should – working out, jogging, lifting weights...I feel great. I've been more productive at work. I sleep better at night. It's not just the Twist 25. It's me and Twist 25 – It gives my body what it needs. I don't get sick as much as I used to either."

Male, Age 42

"I have been using DHEA cream for years and believe it has had an impact on the overall condition of my body at this age. I workout three times per week. No one in the gym can believe I just turned 55. I have less than 10% body fat and my muscles are defined. (laughing)...and this guy at the gym told me I have the body of a 30 year old."

A recent circulation published by the American Heart Association indicates that as DHEA levels rise, risks of heart failure decline. The article suggests that low DHEA levels have been associated with other cardiovascular events as well, while increased DHEA levels may be linked to delayed coronary disease and beneficial to the entire vascular system.
