

U.S. OLYMPIC TEAMS POWERED BY SHAKLEE!

The U.S. Ski Team is comprised of 14 different men's and women's national teams in Alpine, Cross Country, Disabled, Freestyle, Jumping, Nordic Combined and Snow Boarding categories and has been training with Shaklee as their official nutritional sponsor for the past two years.

The teams are competing hard and are very selective about their nutrition, so Shaklee is honored to be the product of choice for this outstanding line-up of athletes.

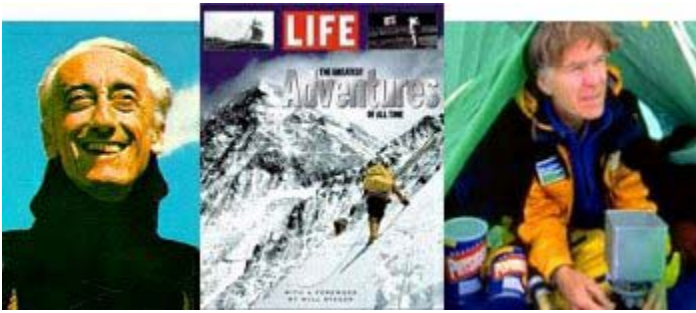

One of the most important products used by these winter-challenged athletes is NutriFeron, the official immunity product for both teams.

Here's what the United States Ski Association (USSA) Sports Dietitian and Physiologist, Susie Simmons, had to say about NutriFeron: "NutriFeron has had a huge impact on the health of many of our athletes. U.S. Ski Team & U.S. Snowboarders travel four to five months straight each year, flying in winter conditions to many different countries." "NutriFeron makes a big difference in strengthening their immune systems, as they push through jet lag, drastic temperature, tough training and the stress through competition. The team takes NutriFeron wherever in the world they are traveling to train and compete."

Staying healthy is critical to performance, and Susie Simmons, the athletes nutritionist provides her list of the top five favorite products for the team:

- NutriFeron with Defend & Resist Complex, as needed
- Vita-Lea. Multivitamin-mineral
- Joint Health Complex
- Shaklee Performance Maximum Endurance Sports Drink
- Multi-Munch Nutrition Energy Bars.

The winning difference will be in nutrition & hydration, recovery, and solid health as explained by the Ski Team nutritionists. When the difference counts Shaklee is there! Look for these Olympic athletes in Torino, Italy as they compete at peak performance. .Now you can feel a closer connection to these athletes as they represent the U.S. and GO FOR THE GOLD!

Did you know that Shaklee has a long history of playing an important role in other remarkable events?

Time Life's: The Greatest Adventures of All Time documents 25 of the most incredible events in history. Interestingly, more than one quarter of these great achievements were projects that involved the use of Shaklee products.

Here are just a few:

- Jacques Cousteau's ocean explorations: Shaklee provided products for the two Cousteau research vessels, Calypso and Alcyon, as well as sponsored the magazine for children, Dolphin Log.
- Will Steger's Polar Expeditions: "Shaklee has been helping explorers and elite endurance athletes meet nutritional challenges for decades," he explained. "My personal collaboration with Shaklee dates back almost 15 years, when the company served as one of the major sponsors for my 1986 polar trek -- the first unsupported trip by dog-team to the North Pole."
- Voyager: The Voyager was the only aircraft to fly around the world nonstop without refueling.
- Shaklee was responsible for dietary advice and provided nutritional products for Dick Rutan and Jeana Yeager, the two daring pilots for this nine-day around the world adventure.
- Daedalus: Shaklee Performance Maximum Endurance Sport Drink was developed as the sole "fuel" for the Greek Olympic cyclist, Kanellos Kanellopoulos, who provided the pedal power for the Daedalus aircraft. The Daedalus aircraft flew from Crete to the Greek mainland and set the world record for human powered flight, a feat equivalent to two back-to-back marathons.

A couple of other Olympic athletes that relied on Shaklee to give them the winning edge include:

- Carla Overbeck, of the U.S. Women's Soccer Gold Medal Team
- U.S. Olympic Swimmer, Gary Hall, Jr. who won a Gold in the 2004 Summer Olympics for the 50-meter freestyle.
- An interesting fact...at the time of this achievement, Gary was 29-years old and a diabetic who was competing against much younger world class athletes. If World Class Athletes choose Shaklee to meet their nutritional needs, just think what they could do for you.

Remember, Shaklee's products have more clinical studies than the next 6 nutritional companies combined...and they are backed by a no-hassle, unconditional 100% money back guarantee.
