

“Since this is obviously a different market, don’t you think we should all do things differently?”

Yes, our market is different! Yes the signs are everywhere. Experts agree that Realtors must spend more time generating and converting leads to continue to in this business. Less time on the “busy” work and more time on the income generating activities.

At Transaction Management Consultants (TMC), we’re doing things differently, we’ve made changes. We’re pleased to offer an all new totally revised Listing Management Service.

Listing Management Service includes the following:

Sliver Level Services

- * Enter listing into MLS
- * Upload photos MLS
- * Uploading Disclosure
- * Enter listing into Postlets.com & 11 other websites
- * Add listing to Craigslist.org
- * Create flyer from one of our templates – or yours

Gold Level Services

includes all of the above PLUS

- * Order yard sign installation
- * Register the seller for the Lowe’s Realtor Benefits
- * Add to agent online database such as TopProducer
- * Add to agent personal website
- * Add to 3 other agent requested websites

Platinum Level Services:

includes all above PLUS

Monthly maintenance program which includes bi-weekly price, photo or description changes to MLS, Agent Website, Postlets, Flyer, Craigslist, and additional websites if part of the initial order. Status changes instantly.

Here's what an industry expert says about Realtors doing it ALL:

“.....very few other industries operate the way real estate does. The division of labor isn’t just an ‘optional’ idea in the modern economy; it’s a critical one. To make beautiful music, the symphony requires each person to do their PART; if one person tried to do it all, it would be a mess.” Matthew Ferrara , March 13th, 2010
