

Newburgh, NY Dec. 4, 2007 - The ALNRS releases their tentative 2008 schedule. Series Director Michael A. Vasquez, Sr. stated the 2008 schedule brings the series back to the best short tracks in the New England region. The series will once again open their season at the Waterford Speedbowl in Waterford, CT. on April 12. If it is anything like last year the ALNRS is sure to start the season off with a bang.

From there the series will head to Lee USA Speedway for their first of four stops at the 3/8 mile speedway where they will be part of the Speedways season opener. The series then heads to the fastest high banked quarter mile in the Northeast at the Monadnock Speedway. This will be the first of five stops at the speedway. The ALNRS will also be a part of Monadnocks season finale on Sept. 20.

The month of May the series returns to Lee and Monadnock and makes it's return for the first time since 2005 to the Canaan Fair Speedway in Canaan, NH. This will be the first of two stops at Canaan as the series will return on June 7.

For June the series has a light month with only two races as we head back to Lee and back to Canaan.

July brings the series to Main for two stops. The first being at the Wiscasset Raceway and then to Beechridge for the four cylinder nationals on July 27. Between these two races the series will be making a return to NY where they will race at one of the fastest tracks on the schedule at the ½ mile Adirondack International Speedway in New Bremen, NY.

In August is back to Monadnock for their third visit of the season and then to Twin State for the first of two stops.

In September the ALNRS revisits Monadnock twice with second date being the season finale. Then back for a second stop at Adirondack. The ALNRS also will be a part of the season finale at Twin State Speedway on September 27 & 28.

In October the ALNRS will help close out the season with it's second race at the Waterford Speedbowl as part of the Town Fair Finale. The final race on the 2008 schedule will once again bring the series back to Lee where for the third straight season the series will be part of the Octoberfest weekend.

With 19 race on the schedule and possibly one more to be added, the ALNRS 2008 season will be full of excitement.
