Background & Experience

With over 17 years of life insurance industry experience, Charley McGrane is passionate about helping investment-focused advisors with wealth planning strategies for business succession, estate planning, wealth transfer and tax mitigation.

Charley and his wife of 10 years, Caitie have one child, Henry, who is 7. Away from work, Charley is an avid sports fan and loves watching the Iowa Hawkeyes, the Minnesota Vikings and European soccer. Charley spends a lot of time in the kitchen, loves listening to Pearl Jam and enjoys an occasional craft beer, but the highlight of his day is being asked to read Shel Silverstein poems to his son Henry every night before bed.
