Background & Experience

With over three decades spent working in the financial services industry, Chris Means applies his vast experience to insurance and estate planning, with a focus on life, disability, and long-term care insurance. He works closely with individuals and small business owners to analyze their protection needs and prepare strategies to help them achieve these goals for both today and the future. In addition, he works extensively with professional athletes, coaches, and sports executives, and serves as a trusted partner and dedicated insurance resource for both advisors and their clients.

Chris is a participating member of the National Associate of Insurance and Financial Advisors (NAIFA). He has been the recipient of numerous awards, including the Mattingly Award, Disability Insurance Inner Circle, Guardian's Leaders Club, Million Dollar Round Table (MDRT), and a Five Star Best in Client Satisfaction award in Atlanta.
