As a principal of SouthCap Brokerage Group, Luke brings a diverse insurance background to the firm. He started his career at Arthur J. Gallagher & Co., where he specialized in alternative risk transfer solutions for middle market corporations. He then joined American Business & Professional Program, a boutique life insurance and estate planning firm. His life insurance production led him to a management position in Credit Suisse's Longevity Markets Group, where he went on to manage the national origination sales team.

Luke enjoys spending his spare time with his wife Isabel and three children - Jack, Bella and Sofia. He is an active supporter of military veterans, particularly through Lead The Way Fund. Luke holds a FINRA Series 7 and 63.
