

Introducing the This Is Home Editorial Scholarship

$500.00

Offered to you by
Kelli Horne and Coldwell Banker Real Estate

About the Scholarship/A Note from Kelli

As a long-time member of CWC and a former board member, I am happy to offer a scholarship to assist aspiring writers in their journey toward publication. This scholarship will be awarded to the CWC entrant who best demonstrates a commitment to produce a written work intended for publication (Fiction or Non-fiction, NO poetry). The Scholarship encourages writers to submit their work to a publisher by providing funding for professional editorial services.

Eligibility

The scholarship is open to all CWC members and non-member residents of North and South Carolina. Entries must be original and unpublished. This includes blogs, Facebook, websites and other digital media.

Submissions

Each submission must include:

- A cover letter with a brief description of the manuscript that the writer is working on and will submit for publication. The description should include information about the genre, the stage of the writing process the manuscript is in and the estimated timeline for working with an editor and submitting for publication. Writers should also include contact information including name, email, phone, and home address.
- An essay on the topic, "What Home Means to Me."
- All submissions should be sent to kelli.horne@cbscarolinas.com.
- Questions or concerns to kelli.horne@cbscarolinas.com or 704-307-6195.

Essay Guidelines and Format

Applicants will submit an essay on the topic, "What Home Means to Me". Feel free to be creative and make the assignment your own. For example, home may be taken in the literal sense; it may be a region; it may be a room in a house or it may not be a physical location at all. Essays will be judged on content, originality, and style. Entries should be double-spaced, 12-point, in any standard font (i.e. Times New Roman).

Deadline

Submissions will be accepted through April 1, 2019.

Prize and Announcement

A scholarship of $500 will be paid directly to an editor, selected by the writer from an approved list of editors. Or the writer may submit a request for approval of another editor.
