

Fishers of Men

Mark 1:14-20; 3:13-19

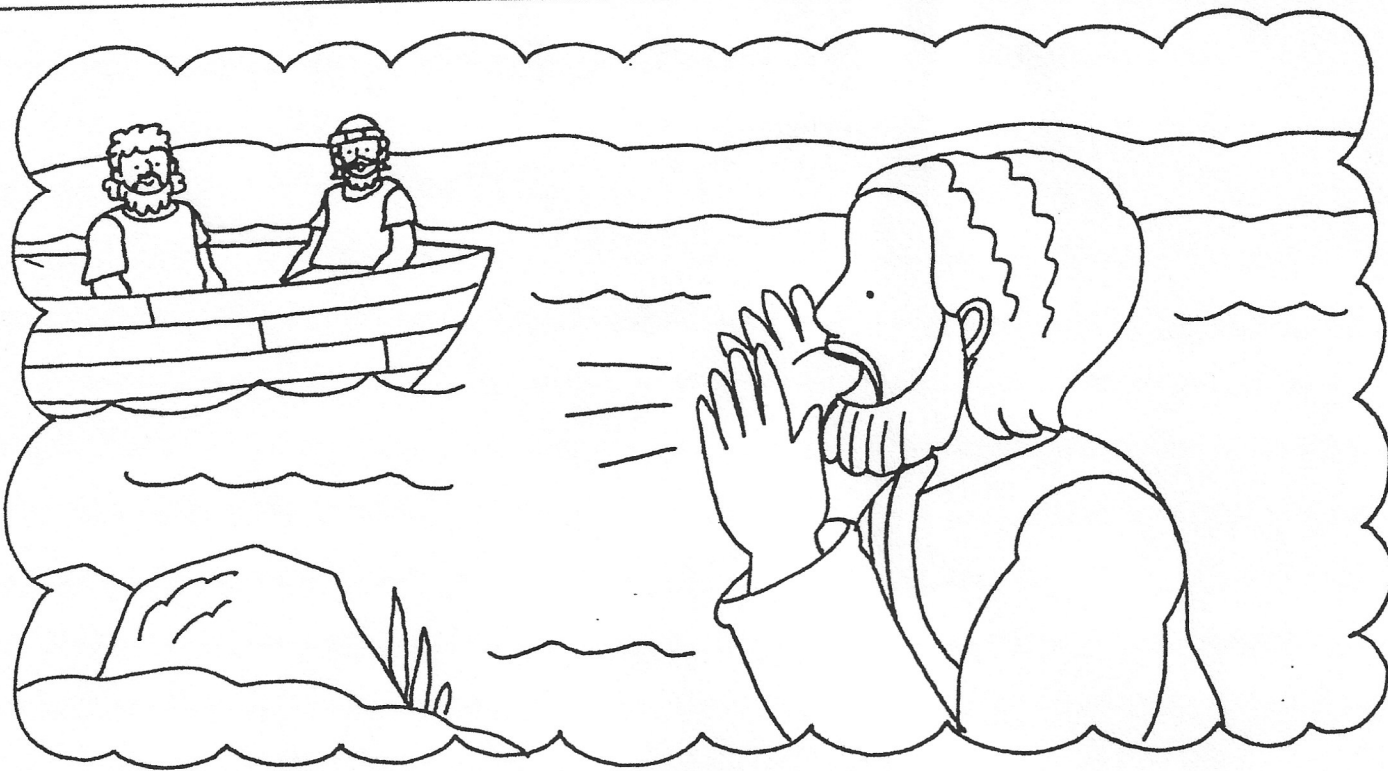

"Come with me," said Jesus to Peter and Andrew. "You have been fishermen. Now I will make you fishers of men."

1

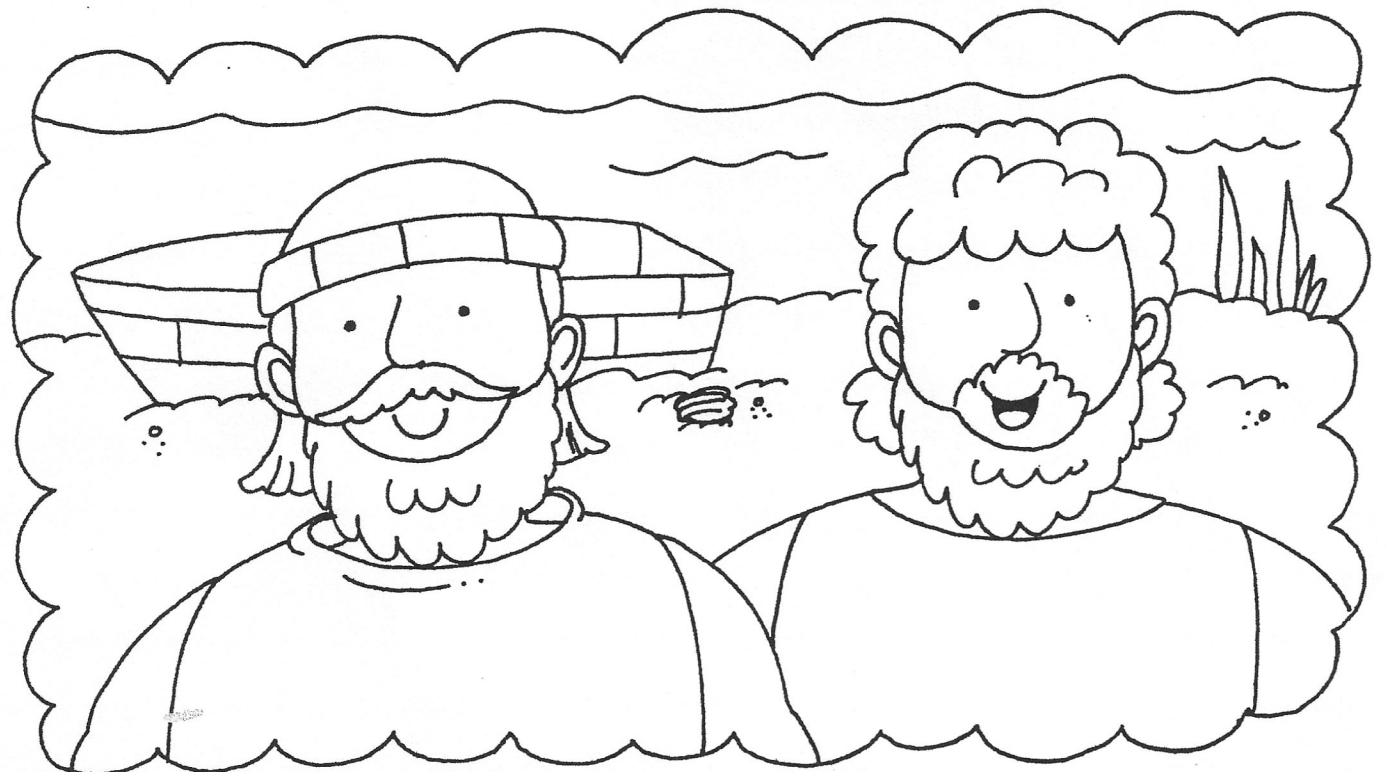

Peter and Andrew dropped their nets and followed Jesus.

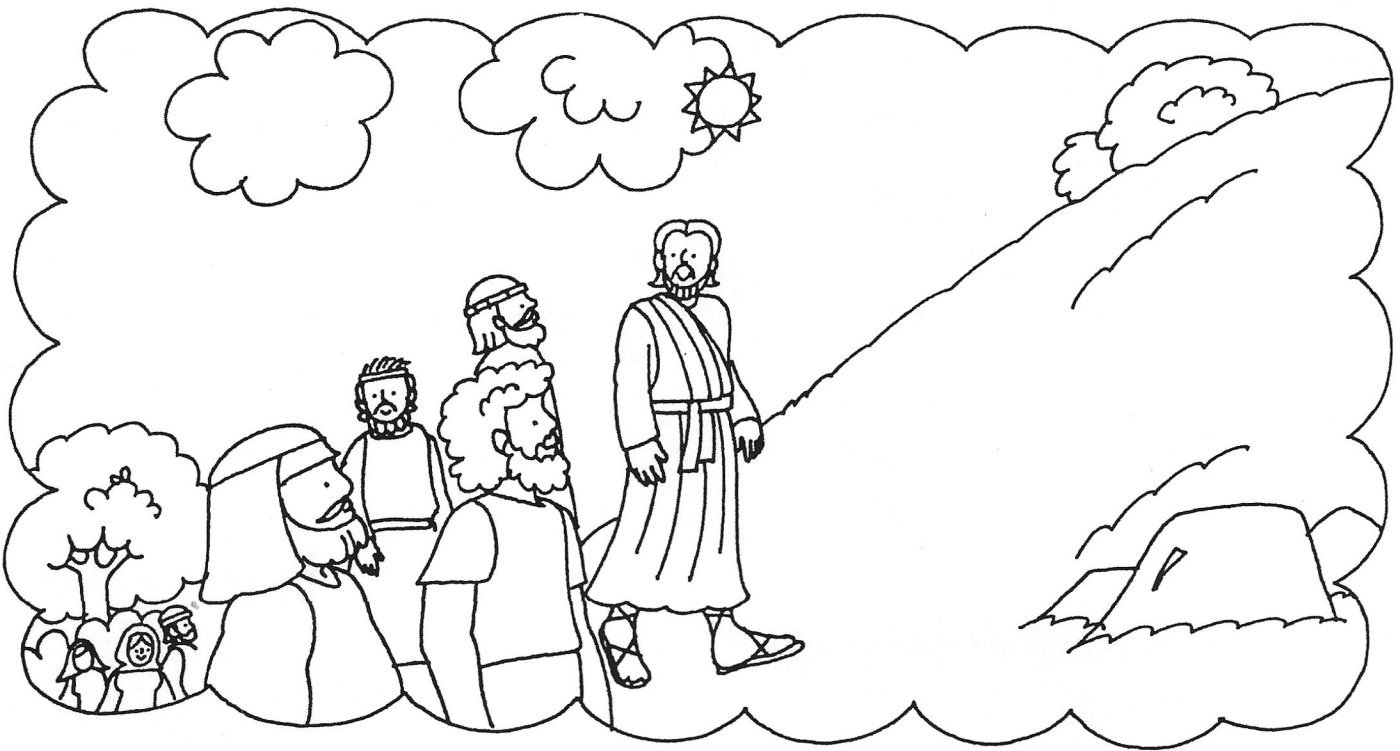

2

"Come with me," said Jesus to James and John. "Today you too will become fishers of men."

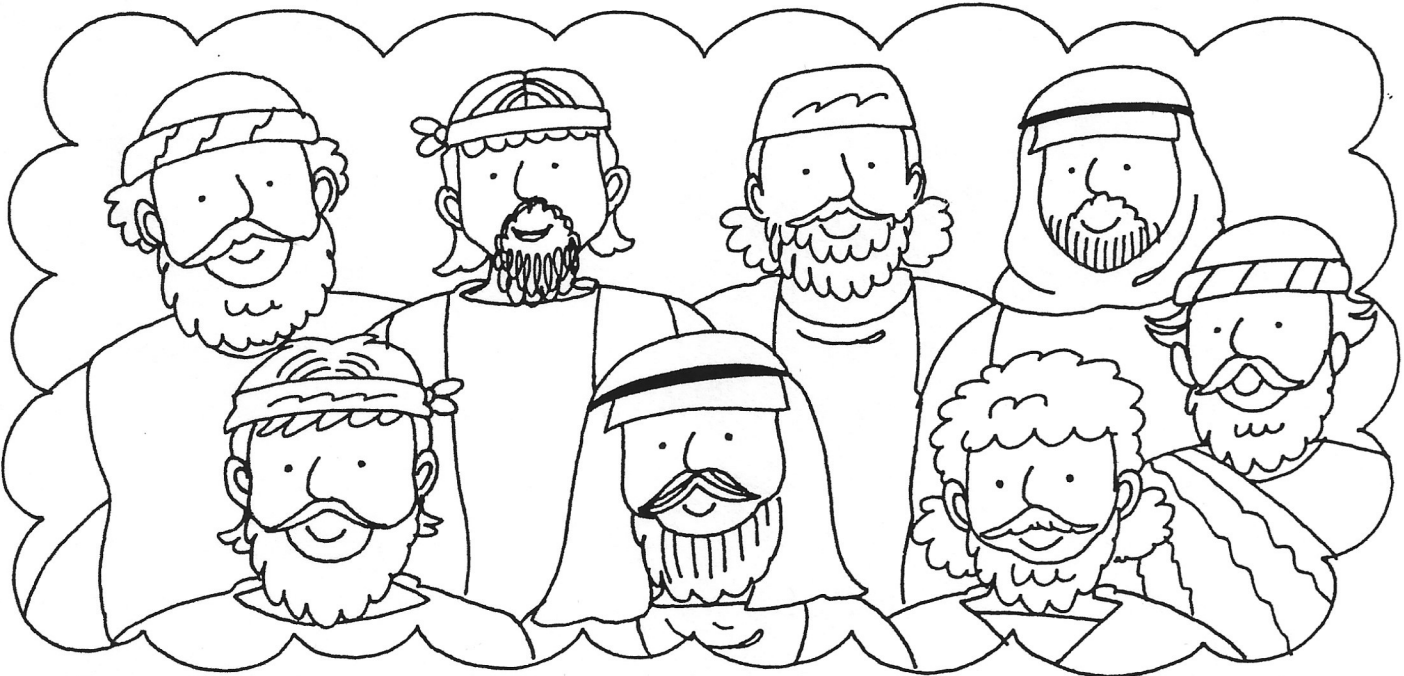

Immediately James and John climbed out of their boat and followed Jesus.

A while later, Jesus and his four disciples went to the mountain to pray.
A crowd followed.

5

From the people who followed him, Jesus chose eight more disciples. Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Simon the Zealot, Thaddaeus (Judas son of James), and Judas Iscariot were chosen along with Peter, Andrew, James, and John to be his twelve fishers of men.

6