

Dear Pregnancy Center Leaders,

A pregnancy center, like any nonprofit, has a duty to protect its ministry assets so that its resources are used to further its mission, and not wasted on unexpected losses. To that end, Care Net has long recognized the benefit of pregnancy centers obtaining insurance to help protect against loss from accidents, natural disasters, and the risks of normal business operations. Maintaining such insurance also helps protect center staff and board members from being personally responsible for paying for such losses.

While Care Net does not endorse any one insurance company, Care Net believes that it is essential that our insurance representatives truly understand what we do and that their products are geared to both the general and unique needs of pregnancy centers. One insurance company that Care Net has reviewed and placed on its insurance provider referral list is Insurance One.

Insurance One offers several insurance options for pregnancy centers. Rick McCrary and his son Brandon, the leaders of Insurance One, have put together special insurance products specifically for churches and ministries with unique needs.

As you determine what is best for the insurance needs of your pregnancy center, please take time to visit the Insurance One booth at this year's conference.

Blessings,
