And More

Nonprofit organizations cover many areas of service and are unique in many ways including your insurance needs. We know nonprofit organizations inside and out. The way you are managed, the clients that depend on you, the challenges of resource development, the importance of stewardship with your resources and the fact that you always want to do more and serve more people. We know how important your mission is to the community and how important it is that we help to protect your mission through a relationship that serves the best interest of your organization.

We are recognized as one of the leading independent agencies insuring the needs of nonprofits, churches and faith-based organizations. Insurance One has developed extensive expertise in these specialty markets, exceeding 20 million dollars in annual premium. Through our position in the market with major insurance carriers, Insurance One can provide your nonprofit organization a comprehensive Property and Casualty Insurance Program.

INNOVATIVE SOCIAL BUSINESS VENTURE

The nonprofit practice of Insurance One is designed to provide financial support back into the nonprofit sector. When you allow us to insure your nonprofit and protect your mission, Insurance One will invest part of the profits we earn to support the work of nonprofits.

INSURANCE FOR A BROAD SCOPE OF SERVICES

The nonprofit community is as diverse as the communities you serve. People are connected to nonprofit organizations for most of their lives in many ways. As we grow and age, people have many different types of needs and find themselves in many circumstances, some short term and some are life-long; some when we are young and others when we are old; some are simple while others are complex; some deal with difficult problems while others work to prevent them. Many nonprofits are here to enrich us through education and a wide variety of visual and performing arts. Other nonprofits are here to help our infants, children and youth to have the tools, support and guidance to succeed as adults.

Dear Colleagues:

For many years we have recognized the need for all pregnancy help ministries (help centers, medical clinics, maternity homes, and adoption agencies) to be protected against loss from accidents, natural disasters, and risks from normal business operations and service provision, as well as from “attacks” based on the heroic work that you do.

Heartbeat believes that it is essential that our insurance representatives truly understand what we do and that their products are geared to both the general and our unique needs of the many types of pregnancy help ministries. Moreover, it is wonderful when the people we deal with directly support our mission and are motivated, because of their own beliefs, to provide the highest level of service.

Heartbeat is happy to introduce a new insurance option for your consideration that meets these specifications.

Insurance One is a company that has a long history of outstanding professional service. Rick McCrary and his son Brandon, the leaders of Insurance One, and leaders in the Dallas community, have a history of excellent service provision to a wide variety of clients, and they have put together special insurance products specifically for churches and ministries with unique needs. Because of his support of our mission, Brandon McCrary serves faithfully on the Heartbeat International governing Board.

As you determine what is best for the insurance needs of your ministry, I recommend Insurance One for your considerations.

Blessings,
