Dear Mr. Nick Scott:

Thank you for the time and energy you put into sharing your story with all 17 schools within our district. Over the past several weeks, approximately 12,000 students and hundreds of staff members were able to hear your message of perseverance as illustrated through your journey from the car accident to the numerous accomplishments you have achieved.

We have heard positive outcomes across the district. Staff have reported that some students have brought forward concerns of bullying to them as a result of hearing your story. Additionally, students were heard complimenting each other saying, "you are beautiful just the way you are." Mr. Brian Bettger, principal at Green Tree East Leadership Academy stated that his students enjoyed your presentation immensely and still talk about "trying even when people say you can't succeed."

I appreciate your flexibility in your presentation style and working to meet our student's needs and interests. We wish you all the best and appreciate your work.

Sincerely,
