

Art Exhibit at Garrison: Jazz Pieces Curated by Juan Houston

Kansas City connoisseur and collector of jazz art Juan Houston
to show unbelievable Jazz pieces never seen publicly

Sunday, April 23, 2017, 3:00 pm

Kansas City artists
Curtis Crowley and Howell Houston will also be in attendance with some of their works.

Juan Jazz  man Houston, Jazz Collector/Connoisseur of beautiful, one of a kind Jazz Art pieces

“I started bringing Jazz Art into my life around 15 years ago and really had no clue that it would manifest to this level.” He currently owns over 260 pieces of Jazz Art. “My love for Jazz Art has grown and my life would be incomplete without it.” He has purchased pieces from other countries, the States and from people who have made one of a kind Jazz Art pieces for him as they know his love for Jazz Art.

“I have a beacon to locate Jazz Art when I enter a thrift and or an antique store. My senses just seem to lead me to find Jazz Art. Not every piece I see comes home with me. The piece has to fill my heart and fit within my Jazz Art Family.”

Garrison School Cultural Center
502 N. Water Street, Liberty, MO
www.ccaal-garrisonschool.org

