NAACP History

Founded February 12, 1909, the NAACP is the nation's foremost, largest, and most widely recognized civil rights organization. Its more than half-million members and supporters throughout the United States and the world are the premier advocates for civil rights in their communities, leading grassroots campaigns for equal opportunity and conducting voter mobilization.

While much of NAACP history is chronicled in books, articles, pamphlets, and magazines, the true movement lies in the faces of the multiracial, multigenerational army of ordinary men and women who united to awaken the consciousness of a people and a nation. With such a powerful membership base, all 2,200 chapters of the Association continue to persevere. Together, the NAACP will remain vigilant in its mission until the promise of America is made real for all Americans.

Vision Statement

The vision of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is to ensure a society in which all individuals have equal rights without discrimination based on race.

Objectives

- To ensure the political, educational, social, and economic equality of all citizens
- To achieve equality of rights and eliminate race prejudice among the citizens of the United States.
- To remove all barriers of racial discrimination through democratic processes
- To seek enactment and enforcement of federal, state, and local laws securing civil rights
- To inform the public of the adverse effects of racial discrimination and to seek its elimination
- To educate persons as to their constitutional rights and to take all lawful action to secure the exercise thereof, and to take any other lawful action in furtherance of these objectives, consistent with the NAACP's Articles of Incorporation and this Constitution.

The Members of the Temple NAACP Unit

Rovi Moore Rovi Ship Scholarship Roxie Mae Moore devoted most of her adult life to giving service to others. Mrs. Moore was active in the Temple Branch NAACP from the 1970s until her passing in 2016. She served as a youth adviser and a membership committee chairperson, as well as other roles. Mrs. Moore received much joy from working with the teenagers in the Temple Branch. She had many fond memories of sponsoring numerous fundraising events to help support the youth attending District, State, and National NAACP Conventions.

> She earned the David Henderson Jr. Award, Temple Branch NAACP Roll of Honor Award, and her certificate of Silver Life Membership during her involvement in the NAACP.

Our pleasure is to present our highest scholarship, the Roxie Mae Moore Award, to a deserving student.

Empowering Women and Girls to WIN

WIN History

During the year of 1980, in Memphis Tennessee, Frances Louise Dancy Hooks (wife of Dr. Benjamin L. Hooks) and Earleen Bolden organized the trailblazing Women in the NAACP (WIN), an unprecedented project which aimed to enhance the leadership roles of women both within the Association and in everyday life.

WIN served the community by supporting & raising funds for emergency relief efforts, in addition creating fashion shows share the power of African American culture and hosted various social events.

Women in the NAACP is an arm of the branch that exudes civil rights fortitude and social responsibility.

General Mission & Structure

Women in the NAACP (WIN) is a Standing Committee of the Temple NAACP Branch. The purposes of WIN are:

- to enhance the leadership role of women;
- to serve as an advocacy vehicle for social, economic, political, educational, and health & welfare issues affecting women, girls, and children;
- to support the policies and ongoing mission of the unit and vision of the NAACP.

WIN programs and activities shall be in accordance with the programs and policies of the NAACP. WIN National Theme

Outstretched hands and open hearts to women and children.

Women have served an integral role in the history of the NAACP, and they continue to play a vital role today.

WIN Initiatives/ Program Focus:

- Advocacy
- Mentoring
- Health Issues for Women
- Forums for "hot button" issues, i.e.: Finances, abuse prevention, networking, advocacy skills.
- Financial Awareness for Women
- Equal Rights for Women
- Disaster Relief
- Attendance at State/National Conference
- Maintaining and Knowing Our History
- Collaboration with local and National chapters
- Community Partnerships
- Community Outreach
- Enhancing Leadership Skills
- Voter Registration

Membership:

Women in the NAACP (WIN) membership is open to any person who is a member of the NAACP and submitted payment of the minimum membership fee of $10
