† Pastor's Letter †

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ

As we begin 2020 Lent Season, I'd like to share with you my sermon on “Blessing in Jesus’ Term – Speaking Against Gospel of Prosperity” preached on February 2 based upon the Beatitudes in Matthew 5:1-12)

In the Beatitudes, Jesus talks about people who are blessed. “Blessed!” is a wonderful word. Sadly, many people are confused with the concept of “blessed” with prosperity, good fortune, and wealth. There are churches - generally quite successful churches - that preach a gospel of prosperity. It is a growing tradition among many Christians today. They are convinced that wealth and financial well-being are a clear expression that they have God’s favor. Such believers claim that wealth and the good things of life are given by God to certain elect individuals, favorites, if you will. The implication is that if people are faithful, God will reward them with success and wealth and if not, they will suffer from poverty and failures.

Dangerously, prosperity gospel can easily become old-fashioned selfishness and a smoke-screen for personal indulgence and exaggerated lifestyle. Not surprisingly many Biblical theologians criticize this approach as a modern form of idolatry. It idolizes wealth and larger-than-life. By idolizing wealth, it judges <people with poverty and sufferings> as those who have not received God’s favor and blessings. But the Bible presents <plenty of evidences> of the opposite of what they claim.

Jesus is the primary evidence. He was poor and didn’t even own his house. He had many misfortunes. He was abandoned by his disciples, bullied by religious leaders, persecuted, tortured and murdered by the authorities. But we know he was always favored by God as “His Beloved Son.” At his birth, even in such a poor birth place, he was loved by God. At his baptism, at his transfiguration moment and at the moment of death, the heaven was opened and the voice confirmed “This is my beloved Son.”

Poverty and suffering were never the evidence for the lack of God’s blessing. The apostle Paul and Peter were going through great sufferings but were always with God’s abundant grace and blessing. Gospel of prosperity teaches the opposite of Christ’s Good News that God blesses all, especially the poor, the misfortune, and the vulnerable in the world.

Furthermore, the gospel of prosperity ignores the strong Biblical injunctions for compassion and concern for those in need. Their presumed status as “the blessed ones” makes them to see the poor as inferior to them. Their belief builds up the wall between the have and the have-not -- thicker and higher.

So Jesus has broken down that wall between the two. He identified himself with the poor and the less fortunate. He said “Truly I tell you, just as you did it to one of the least of these (the hungry, the thirsty, the naked, the imprisoned...), you did it to me” (Matthew 25:40). By identifying himself with the misfortunate, he blesses and includes them in the blessed community of God. Therefore, we need to be clear about the definition of blessing in Jesus’ term.

The Beatitudes reflect the image of Christ, his lifestyle, his values and characters as he defines who are the blessed. Jesus is “the poor in spirit,” “the one who mourn,” “the meek,” “the one who hunger and thirst for righteousness,” “the merciful,” “the pure in heart,” “the peacemaker” and “the one who is persecuted for righteousness’s sake.”

According to Jesus, WEALTH is not the evidence of God’s blessing but rather a tool given to bless others and to find joy in blessing others. In the late nineteenth century, Andrew Carnegie articulated a sense of gratitude and generosity by arguing, in the words of Jesus, that ... From everyone who has been given much, much will be demanded; and from the one who has been entrusted with much, much more will be asked. (Luke 12:48). He also said, "Wealth is not to feed our egos but to feed the hungry and to help people help themselves." He redistributed his surplus resources by means of responsible gifting to institutions that enriched humankind. His approach challenged the common practice of his time, whereby the wealthy simply passed their resources on to their heirs.

Throughout the latter part of his life he gave a brilliant example of the wisdom of his Gospel of Wealth. Wealth is not the evidence of God's favor for certain selected people but it is rather God's calling to serve others in the world.

Today our Lord speaks to us about what it means to be blessed. Jesus wants us to know that the Kingdom of Heaven is experienced right now, whenever we embrace each other as children of God, and whenever we bear one another's burdens and reach out to those most vulnerable in our midst, binding their wounds and protecting them from evil.

The Beatitudes need a new interpretation in our day when the cult of self-indulgence has displaced the Jesus' message of compassion and concern. Jesus came into the world to save us, not to please us. His saving Gospel calls us to move from the Kingdom of self to the Kingdom of God.

Let us follow Jesus as he leads us!

Blessed Lenten Journey to You All!

Your Pastor, Hyesung Lee

SPRC – Connecting the Pastor, Staff & Congregation

There are specific tasks that guide the Staff Parish Relations Committee:

- Encourage, strengthen, nurture, support and respect the pastor and staff.
- Promote unity in the church with open and clear communication.
- Confer with staff on the effectiveness of their roles, especially in the use of their gifts, skills and time, and any possible impediments to their effectiveness.
- Routine evaluations, clergy housing, salary recommendations and job descriptions.

Having open and clear communication is key to building trust and lasting relationships so that the whole church continues to grow and thrive. Please reach out to a SPRC committee member to express your hopes, dreams, compliments and concerns. Each committee member has a specific liaison, but we are all happy to talk with you anytime.

DAYS OF LENT

In these wondrous days of Lent
May I look for ideas heaven sent
If unforgiveness I'm holding onto
May I find ways to now relent
If days gone by somehow misspent
May I forgive myself – 100%
Revisit the teachings that Jesus sent
And ponder all his words have meant
May actions infuse my good intent
Share hidden gifts, so far unspent
Less looking for woes to gladly lament
Find things to praise – more eloquent
Have faith in God on my ascent
And find new ways for love to invent
Respect God's children – all different
Embrace more peace – and breathe content
No need to get out of shape bent
As we trust in God - mishaps prevent
And before I wonder – where all the time went
May I just do something – in these days of Lent.

The middle school group, otherwise known as MTJ, and the young adult/high school group, also known as YAHS, have continued to get together on our regular Sunday nights and have enjoyed discussions and events in January and February. In January, our youth and members of the church participated in the Winter Nights program. We prepared and served lunch for the families staying and played some intense and rousing rounds of U-NO!

MTJ enjoyed a Fast Food Progressive Dinner. This year we went to McDonald's, Taco Bell, Wendy's and Burger King. On Saturday, February 1st, the youth had a movie afternoon at AMC. We saw the newest Jumanji movie—many laughs to be had! MTJ served at Glide on February 16th. We also held our annual Fat Tuesday Pancake feed—the perfect way to kick off the season of Lent.

Discussion topics have included friendship, divorce, advice-giving/receiving, and of course a variety of things that just come up in conversation 😊
