Start with superior performance and reliability. Add durability and energy efficiency. Then top it all off with an elegant design. That's Windjammer Series 40.

Benefits of Vinyl

Vinyl. When it comes to windows, this is most homeowners' material of choice. Why? Vinyl is nearly maintenance free, sparing you the hassle of scraping peeling paint or repairing rotting wood. Quality vinyl windows offer insulated glass and a tight frame construction, which translate into the lower heating and cooling costs that come with increased energy efficiency. And finally, vinyl windows are styled to satisfy almost any aesthetic preference.

With the Windjammer Series, you receive all these benefits and more, because our vinyl windows offer the highest quality materials and workmanship. We start with premium virgin vinyl, and then we engineer a window with fusion-welded frames and sashes, security latches and locks, and optimal thermal performance. And our windows are beautiful as well.

Vinyl. Shouldn't it be your choice, too?

High-Performance Glass

Because a window is mostly glass, it's important for thermal efficiency that the glass be top quality. That's why the Lansing Windows and Doors Windjammer Series uses only the best glass available. It features our Warm-Edge sealant system, in which double panes are separated by an insulating air space. For even greater efficiency, you can choose options such as Low-E glass (especially made for southern climates), each of which retains long-wave heat energy in winter but reflects those heat rays in summer. These glass options also reduce ultraviolet light, which can damage furniture, carpets, and drapes. An additional Windjammer Series option includes Low-E glass panes separated by argon gas, which adds superior insulation and noise buffering.
