

March Newsletter

Welcome to our March edition of our newsletter! We are excited to share what we have all been learning about and our experiences throughout the month. This month was jam-packed with activities, events and celebrations! are getting brighter. A highlight in the month of February was Valentine's Day. We made cards to show our families how much we appreciate them, and we explored love and gratitude.

Rainbow Room

Hello families and friends!

During the month of March, we explored different themes, such as, World Book Day, International Women's Day, St Patrick Day, Mother's Day, and gardening...

We continue to take our walking trips within the community as the children enjoy it and it is important to learn about and explore our locale. We went to the library on World Book Day, and we spent an amazing time in the sensory garden they have there. We also love going to Nano Nagle place. The children get so excited watching the waterfalls there. And, of course, we are doing a lot of funny messy play with pasta, rice, water, chickpeas, different flours, sand... Sensorial play is always a good experience for our children.

Wobbler Room

This month in Wobblers we had so much fun together. We made a sensory activity using rice, pasta and plastic bottles to create shakers. We also do Circle time every morning with the children. They all have a turn to pick a song from the 'song box' and stick it in our song board. They enjoy story time as well.

For St Patrick's day we made a shamrock with the kids, using green paint and sponges. The children loved it!

~Toddler Room~

For the month of March, we learned about St Patrick's Day. We planned fun-filled painting and gluing activities for the children to partake in. One week, we painted using green, white, and orange on black card and for another activity we glued down orange and green bits of paper onto white paper. Another week, we painted shamrocks green, and we did another activity in which we painted using the colours of the rainbow on white paper. The children loved experimenting and mixing all the colours together.

~ECCE Room~

This month in the ECCE room, we explored different themes, which are the following: spring, St Patrick's Day, the weather, reptiles and gardening. When exploring these themes, we incorporated shapes and letters, so each child gets to practice shapes and letter recognition. We are also including more hands-on activities to get children involved in active learning such as planting our own plants to watch them grow, experiments to make our own rainbow etc.
