bring with me to Peru for children with cancer who come into the capital from the rural areas province and families are truly poor and in need. The group of ladies who help children in need every year organising " bring a smile to a child" by donating toys, clothes and give hot chocolates and panettone to the children in hospital. If you feel that you can help me to bring a smile to these children. You only need to bring small donation of a toy unfortunately they need to be new and placed under the tree in the playroom.
